COME ON, FOLKS; LET'S ALL VOTE!

DEM NOMINEES, GARNER DOWN, TO VOTE STRAIGHT.

Every Texas Member Congress and State Ticket Pledge Support To Democratic Slate.

Dallas, Nov. 2.—Headed by Speaker John N. Garner, Democratic nominee for Vice President, every Texas member of Congress and every one of the party's nominees for state office in Texas has pledged himself to support the whole party ticket from President to Public Weigher. In letters and telegrams to Maury

Austin, Texas, October 28, 1932.
Mr. Fletcher Davis,
Hondo, Texas.
Dear Friend:
I thank you for your letter of August 29 which just could not be answered sooner. My wife and I deeply appreciate your friendly interest and your support.
Let's all work hard and urge our friends to turn out and vote so we can roll up a huge majority for the entire Democratic ticket in November.
Your friend,
JAS. E. FERGUSON.

Hughes of Dallas, chairman of the Democratic State Executive Committee, these leaders in public affairs have marshalled themselves behind the Lone Star State's most distinguished son in a steady drive down the line to defeat Republicanism with a national ticket headed by Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt of New York and a State ticket headed by Mrs. Miriam A. Ferguson.
"It seems rather absurd to me that there should be any question as to whether I expect to vote the straight Democratic ticket," Speaker Garner wrote to Mr. Hughes in a forceful letter. "At no time have I deviated from my rule to abide by the will of the majority of my party. Majority rule is the essence of democracy, and while it is true that at times the majority may make mistakes, it also is true that this is the exception rather than the rule.

"You may state to those who make inquiries of you that it is my intention to vote the straight Democratic ticket."

Mr. Hughes, in an equally vigorous statement, denounced Republican efforts to link the names of the Democratic presidential and vice presidential nominees with the Republican nominee for Governor, Orville Bullington, through the formation of Roosevelt-Garner-Bullington clubs.

"The purpose of the association of these names," said Mr. Hughes, "is to lead the Democrats of Texas to believe that the national ticket is not supporting the Democratic candidate for Governor. The contrary is true. There is perfect harmony between the national and State Democratic organizations. Mr. Bullington has nothing in common with Governor Roosevelt or Mr. Garner."

"He is voting against them and for the entire Republican ticket, while Mrs. Ferguson is supporting Governor Roosevelt, Mr. Garner and the entire Democratic ticket. I am sure that neither Governor Roosevelt nor Mr. Garner appreciate the effort on the part of Mr. Bullington to elect himself Governor by swinging onto their coat-tails. Mr. Garner is against Mr. Bullington and is supporting and will vote for Mrs. Ferguson and is making no secret of that fact."

In addition to the Democratic nominees, including United States Senators Morris Sheppard and Tom Connally, Lieut. Gov. Edgar E. Witt and Attorney General James V. Alford, such leading elder statesmen of the party as Albert Sidney Burlison, Postmaster General in Woodrow Wilson's cabinet, and Thomas Watt Gregory, President Wilson's Attorney General, are likewise supporting the whole ticket from top to bottom without scratch or exception.

A MESSAGE TO THE VOTERS.

Dear Fellow Citizens:
Now that election is drawing nearer, I want to avail myself of the opportunity of thanking the people of Medina County for the many courtesies and kindnesses shown to me during the campaign now closing, and also to make a final request for the support of those voters who may still be undecided.

It has been a source of great pleasure to have had the opportunity of again meeting my old friends and of forming new ones during the past weeks, for true friendship to me means more than riches.

In conclusion I want to say once more that I certainly will appreciate your support. I make it a personal promise to each and every citizen that, if elected, I will prove to you that I will not only conduct the affairs of the office of Tax Assessor with efficiency and courtesy, but that I will prove myself to be your personal friend at all times, and that my services will be entirely satisfactory to each and every taxpayer.

Hoping that you will give me this opportunity to serve you, I am,
Very sincerely yours,
FRANK M. FINGER.

WHO WILL HELP?

The following telegram is self-explanatory:
Austin, Texas, 11-2-32.
Fletcher Davis, Hondo, Texas.
Forty thousand dollars needed to complete Texas quota National campaign. We are, therefore, appealing to each county chairman to raise a hundred dollars in addition to funds already secured and remit to us this week. With overwhelming victory assured, Texas Democrats should be glad to help pay the bill. As leader of the party in your county, we are counting on your prompt response.
ROY MILLER, Director,
MARGIE NEAL, Co-Director,
FRANK SCOFIELD, Chairman Finance.

Democrats of Medina County:
You see the urgency of the need for funds. Any one wishing to help can secure receipt books and medallions by applying at my office. Any one wishing to help to the extent of a dollar or more can do so by inquiring for a salesman of medallions or by calling on or writing me. It is impossible for me to leave my own work to go out and make personal solicitation; so do not wait to be approached by someone; act yourself.
FLETCHER DAVIS,
County Chairman.

BUY ONE AND HELP THE CAMPAIGN FUND.

Roosevelt-Garner Medallion, this emblem is being distributed to contributors to National Democratic campaign.

TO THE VOTERS.

I have tried to see all voters. If I failed to see you, do not take it as an indication that I do not want your vote or would not appreciate your support.

This business of "electioneering" has been very hard for me to do. I have tried all my life to be unselfish, and now to ask you to help me, without being able to offer you any visible return for your favor, seems to me very selfish, and is against my nature. I hope those of you whom I did not see will understand the position I am in, and I ask those whom I did see to forgive me for having been selfish. I will appreciate very much your favorable consideration.

WHEN PA COMES HOME.
When pa comes home at night, ma says,
"Now, children, you must quiet be; Poor pa is tired most to death, And I'll be quick and get his tea."
Then pa comes in and claps his hands,
And says, "Hurrah for little Tim!" And right away us children know That we shall have some fun with him.
The baby in her high chair crows,
And stretches out her arms to him; And soon he takes her on one knee, And on the other dandles Jim.
And Juliet and Kate and me— We hang upon his rocking chair, And every breath we talk to him, And pat his face and smooth his hair.
And ma, she gets the supper on, And says, "Do, children, let him be! Poor pa don't get a minute's rest; Now let him come and have his tea."
And then we hold him fast and tight, Until he pulls and breaks away, And then we chase him round the room— Pa is the greatest one for play!
And then ma smiles, and says, "Dear me! You're wilder than the children, Ned! Now quiet down, and come to eat, And then I'll put them straight to bed."
And ma she means it, truly-true; But pa, he looks at Kate and me, And when he looks like that we know There'll be a frolic after tea.

TO OUR SUBSCRIBERS.

In addition to increasing our postal rates on mailing our papers about 25 per cent, the Hoover scheme for relieving the depression compels the post office to charge us two cents for every notice of change in address it delivers to us. You can send us a notice on a 1c postal card and not notice it, but a 2c charge on us will soon aggregate a burdensome sum to us, so we beg of you to not leave it to the post office to notify us of change of address, but do so yourself as soon as a change is made. Postmasters are asked to send no notice until several undelivered papers are accumulated and then only one. Thanking you in advance, we are,

Yours truly,
THE EDITORS.

QUIHI NOTES.

For unto whomsoever much is given, of him much shall be required. Luc. 12:48.

That's a just and logical standard of undisputed application everywhere. In monetary matters and in other spheres of gifts and qualities and dispositions. Every individual has some equipment specifically his own and, in most instances, if he uses it hard and consistently, can find a fairly corresponding opportunity to apply it. Every gift carries a moral obligation, and neither denial nor lack of personal inventory and appreciation nor light-hearted evasion will change the obligation and the responsibility attached to it. The final scrutiny and judgment rests with Him who dispenses man's equipment and who chronicles man's motives and accomplishments in their true proportion.

On their way to California, Mr. and Mrs. F. Martland of Cherokee, Iowa, stopped off at the parsonage and gave us a genuine and happy surprise. But a few months ago they were our next-door neighbors up there. They are fortunate to escape the northern winter and, judging by their description, the initial chapter of that dreary season, with its killing frosts and corresponding desolation, plus four inches of snow for a background, seems a fair sample of what the other chapters hold in store of that questionable romance. Little wonder that these good people, by way of contrast, have but one long praise of our Texas autumn with its balmy climate and the pensive sunbeams lingering on hills and dales and dreaming fields—while the "northern half" runs for shelter and real-bins. Mrs. Martland was one of Mrs. Hoover's former teachers and, to be sure, takes just pride in his career. Bon voyage!

November the 13th is the next date for the Luther League program. A splendid program is under preparation. Select and timely recitations will be given by Miss Agnes Hartmann and Master Roy Bohlen; readings by Messrs. Arnold Reitzler and Elmer Loebberg; the vocal selections will be made by Mr. Otto Lindeburg and Miss Lucille Bohlen; the instrumental music section is in charge of Miss Ellen Hartmann while Mr. Walter Grell makes the selections for the choir. The church choir and other contributors will help to furnish quantity and quality for the usually fine gathering we have at these occasions. A hearty invitation goes out to all friends.

Announcements for Sunday, Nov. 6:
Services at Quihi: German at 10:30 A. M.; S. S. and Bible class at 9:15; S. S. teachers will meet at 8:30 A. M. English service at 7:30 P. M.
Lord, I have loved the habitation of thy house, and the place where, thine honor dwelleth, says the Psalmist. May he voice the sentiments of your heart. Come.

START THE DAY RIGHT.

By Mollie Martin.

One's likes and dislikes are usually very strong early in the morning. You have probably noticed how some little thing that wouldn't bother you in the afternoon gets on your nerves at the beginning of the day. Children, too, have particularly strong dislikes in the mornings. This is a good thing to remember when considering their breakfast menus.

Breakfast is an important meal, for it is at this time that the growing youngsters are given the food and drink that will carry them through, usually the most active part of the day ahead. Unfortunately many children who do not like milk exhibit an extreme dislike for it at breakfast and rebel strongly against having it served to them.

But milk is such a necessary part of the diet and is so desirable as a morning drink that the thoughtful parent will take care to give it to the children in other forms. A hot cereal beverage may be placed before each child. It will furnish the required nourishment and it has a lure to children who feel that they are drinking something hot for breakfast, just like mother or father.

YANCEY SCHOOL NOTES.

The Yancey Vocational Agriculture Class organized their Future Farmers of America Chapter on last Wednesday, Oct. 26, 1932, for the coming year. The members decided to elect in memory of our deceased fellow classmate, Lloyd Bohmfalk as Honor President of the Chapter.

President, Marvin Muennink; Vice President, Lawrence Wilson; Treasurer, Albert Wilson; Secretary, Alfred Muennink; Reporter, Rubin Fessler; Watch Dog, Earl Berry; Conductors, Ben Muennink, Leroy McDaniel and Henry Fessler; Advisors, T. H. Roensch.

The following objectives were set up for the 1932-1933 Chapter:

1. Terrace the School Grounds.
2. Prune 500 stone fruit trees.
3. Cull 500 hens for egg production.
4. Attend the A. and M. Judging Contest.
5. Financial (to be decided at a later date).
6. Put on an F. F. A. booth at the Winter Garden Fair.
7. Attend the district Vocational Agriculture Judging Contest (probably at Medina Hereford Ranch).
8. Sponsor the Annual Parents and Sons Banquet.
9. Have the annual Outing and Fishing Trip.
10. Sponsor O'Possum Hunts (Financial).
11. Have monthly Chapter meetings.
12. Exhibit Vocational Agriculture project at Fairs, etc.

On last Saturday, Oct. 29, our advisor, T. H. Roensch, and Rubin Fessler, Ben and Alfred Muennink, and Lawrence Wilson, attended the District F. F. A. meeting held at Cotulla for the purpose of organizing the District Chapter, composed of Dilly, Cotulla, Carrizo Springs, Crystal City, Foleet, Pearsall, Somerset and Yancey Vocational Agricultural Departments.

The Cotulla boys entertained the visiting boys with a Chili Supper on the banks of the Nueces River and Mr. Dubose, local picture show owner, gave the boys a free show, which was a splendid picture and was highly appreciated by all the boys. By the way, Mr. Dubose is a strong backer of the F. F. A. movement and deserves much credit for his encouraging work with the boys.

The boys are making progress for the preparation of the Yancey F. F. A. exhibits at the Winter Garden Fair, Nov. 9-12 at Pearsall.

The tennis courts of the school are also being topped with caliche by the boys and are expected to be completed at an early date.

Friday, Oct. 28, 1932, the turkey raisers of the Yancey Community met with Mr. Haipin, of the Southwest Poultry Producers Assn. for the purpose of marketing cooperatively their turkeys. The meeting was well attended and the majority of the members are expected to sell through the Association. A truck is expected to be in the community on Nov. 4th from the Association to get the turkeys. T. H. Roensch, teacher of Vocational Agriculture, is to assist in grading the turkeys, as only grade No. 1 are expected to be marketed for Thanksgiving. Anyone interested in marketing through the Association should see Mr. Joe Burgin or T. H. Roensch.

RESOLUTIONS OF CONDOLENCE.

Whereas, God, who doeth all things well, has seen proper to call from her labors one of the last survivors of the Castro Colony of 1846, Mrs. George Haass; and

Whereas in her passing from this earthly tabernacle to that celestial home above, the people of Medina County have lost a true and loyal friend, the county a courageous citizen, and the church a devoted, sincere, and useful member.

Whereas her many deeds of kindness, her sincere devotion and loyalty to the Castro Colony and its posterity, and her unfeigned fidelity in humanity, are recorded upon perpetual records, being that of human breasts, and

Whereas it is but just that a fitting recognition of her many virtues should be had; therefore be it

RESOLVED by the Henry Castro Historical Association that while we bow with humble submission to the will of God, we do not the less mourn for our friend who has been removed from our midst.

Be it further resolved that we, The Henry Castro Historical Association, tender to the bereaved family our sincere sympathy and condolence in this sad hour of their affliction.

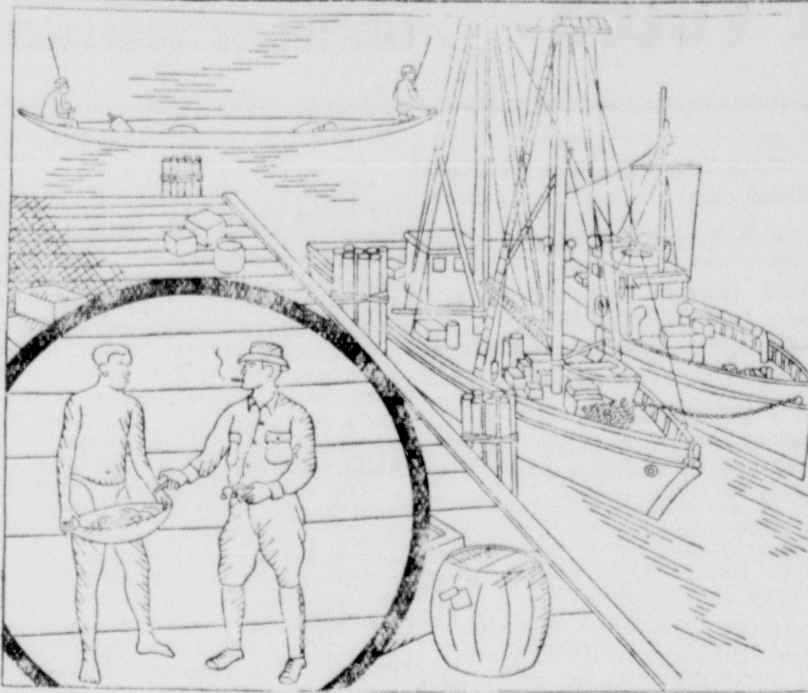

Be it further resolved, that a copy of this resolution be forwarded to the family of the bereaved, a copy be presented to the press for publication and a copy be spread upon the minutes of the Association.

Elderly people should eat plenty of fruits and vegetables. Fruit juice or pulp or strained vegetables may be given if preferable. Foods to be used sparingly are rich sauces, cakes and puddings, pastries, and fried foods. Hot rather than cold food is especially needed in chilly weather to keep the body comfortably warm. Smaller amounts of food, however, are needed as people get older. In many ways the diet for the elderly is like that for children during the first five years. It consists of milk, eggs, fruit juices, cooked cereals and cereal puddings, and strained vegetables. Simple meals served at frequent intervals are best. The chief difference is that the emphasis is no longer on building materials as in childhood. Old people may depend on hot stimulating foods like tea and coffee that are not allowed to children.

The Baker Co., manufacturer of a breakfast food made from sweet potatoes, is negotiating with Paesitine for the establishment of a second plant in that city, in addition to its original plant at Lindale.

Sack of Tobacco Sold For $16,400

POSSIBLY the highest price ever received for a sack of tobacco was obtained on a South Sea island in 1903, according to "Tobacco". It was paid to a tourist by a half-caste pearl diver.

The tourist, who had missed his boat, waited away his time watching the pearl divers of the island. One of the half-castes who saw him roll himself a cigarette from his sack of "Bull" Durham, offered to buy the tobacco. As it was the last one available on the island, the tourist was reluctant to part with it for any price; so the pearl diver finally offered him the pearls in the sack of five shells which he was about to open.

The traveler agreed. The first four shells produced nothing more than some practically worthless sized pearls, but the fifth disclosed a pearl of size, coloring and texture seldom equaled. Declining all local offers, the traveler bought himself a pistol and departed on the next steamer. He later sold the pearl, which he had traded for a five cent sack of "Bull" Durham tobacco, for $16,400.

From humble beginnings in Durham, North Carolina, soon after the Civil War, "Bull" Durham has achieved world-wide popularity and renown. Not every smoker can expect to trade his five cent sack of tobacco for a pearl of great price, but in these days millions are eager to save their "rolls" by rolling their own.

MISSING SPOUSE RETURNS TO FIND ROMANCE IS DEAD.

Thousands of persons, all over the United States, are reported missing annually. Many of these persons never come back. "The Man From Yesterday," the Friday and Saturday feature at the Colonial Theatre, is the story of a man who does come back to find his wife in love with another man.

Clive Brook and Claudette Colbert have the leading roles in this picture, based on the successful play by Nell Blackwell and Rowland G. Edwards.

Brook, an English army captain on war leave, and Miss Colbert are hastily married in Paris, just an hour before Brook has to report back for duty. Brook is reported killed, and years pass before they find each other again. When they do find each other, Brook is a shattered veteran, and Miss Colbert has unwillingly fallen in love with another man. The wife is torn between out-worn duty and a new love.

Most of the action of the picture takes place in after-the-war Paris, and the story is unusual in that Brook, although playing the leading male role is entirely absent from the middle sequences of the drama. Charles Beyer, playing the important "other man" role, is the European stage favorite, making his American screen debut in "The Man From Yesterday."

Next week—Irene Dunne and John Boles in the adaptation from Fanny Hurst's novel, "Back Streets."

Poor Sleep Due To Gas In Upper Bowel

Poor sleep is caused by gas pressing heart and other organs. You can't get rid of this by just doctoring the stomach because most of the gas is in the UPPER bowel.

The simple German remedy, Adlerika, reaches BOTH upper and lower bowel, washing out poisons which cause gas, nervousness, bad sleep. Get Adlerika today; by tomorrow you feel the wonderful effect. You will say the day you read this was sure a lucky day for you. W. H. Windrow, Druggist.

play that tends to develop, strengthen and protect the vital organs of the body."

According to this authority an elementary school child needs five to six hours of this big muscle play each day. As the school cannot give this amount for outdoor play in its daily schedule, the mothers must provide for it. Games which satisfy their urge for physical activity, but which stress skill in bodily coordination, rather than strength and endurance are most desirable she says. Because of the small heart, frequent rest periods should be given.

Adolescent boys and girls should learn outdoor games which will provide leisure time activities in adulthood such as tennis and golf, to be followed by specialization in one sport.

Play clothes should allow freedom of movement, should be durable and of a bright color as a safety measure, especially in street play. Safety education leaders advocate the elimination of traditional dull toned play suits, and the substitution of brightly colored clothes which distinctly mark the child.

SERVICES AT BAPTIST CHURCH.

The Pastor greatly appreciates the presence on last Sunday of a number of our Methodist friends. The special music by Misses Saathoff and Senne too, was appreciated by all present. The Pastor was delighted by the number of our own people who went to the choir. Mr. George Windrow's use of the saxophone helped much. Why could we not have a splendid orchestra for both the Sunday school and the church hour. It would be fine and do good to all concerned. Let's try it.

The Bible school seems now to be feeling an encouraging impulse. Mr. Fleker, our Superintendent, is urging it on. No one should fail to be present and on time, helping to encourage this greatly needed work. Both men and women for the adult department are urged to join the classes. Children who are not in the Bible school today will neglect God and the welfare of the soul tomorrow. Lightness is founded in religion and it is righteousness which exalts a nation. Satan has his evangelists in Hondo as everywhere else. It is Christ or chaos for our nation's future. World Peace will be the subject of our study next Sunday. Come and be with us. At the morning hour the Pastor will preach on the Principle of Voluntaryism in Religion! or the competency of the soul in its relation to God. Religion does not enslave men; it strikes off the shackles of evil and sets one free. You better come and hear the discussion. Worship with us.

The evening service will begin at 7 o'clock. Come promptly, you will get your money's worth.

They show it in a larger way by the large selections they offer you, the fair and courteous service they give you, and the reasonable prices they charge.

Hondo invites you to come here and trade.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe F. Haegelin were visitors in Hondo Monday and while here paid this office a call. Mr. Haegelin says the low price of oats and the fact that some farmers still have grain from two years ago on hand has discouraged the farmers somewhat in Rio Medina section, one of the banner oat-growing areas of Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. August J. Leinweber were pleasant callers at this office Wednesday. They presented the editor with a seven-pound sweet potato—as fine a specimen as we ever saw—and the depression can do its worst now, we shall feed while it lasts. If some of our hunters would be equally generous with a "possum" to accompany it we might even "fatten up" for a spell! Mr. Leinweber said he grew a fine crop of potatoes this year and found a number of abnormal size. They are of the Nancy Hall variety and evidently are adapted to his soil.

ST. PAUL'S LUTHERAN CHURCH.

"We are personally responsible for spreading the Gospel of Christ" was the keynote of Rev. Henry Hafermann's sermons at our Church last Sunday. A large and attentive audience heard the speaker upon this double festival day, on which the Reformation Movement and Missions were observed. The necessity and importance of doing this work of missions was stressed. The field white unto harvest was the basis of the night address, on the text John 4:38.

The service next Sunday will be held in the morning at 10:30 in the English language. Sunday school and Bible Classes will meet at 9:15. Those both in Sunday School and congregation may bring their offering envelopes next Sunday if they have not yet had the opportunity to do so. The response thus far has been very gratifying.

Next Sunday night the Luther League will meet at the church at 7 o'clock. All members are urged to be present and friends are always welcome. A report on the membership campaign will be given.

LUTHERAN LADIES ENTER-TAINED.

The ladies of St. Paul's Lutheran Church met at the home of Mrs. L. A. Mechler on Wednesday, Nov. 2nd. The pastor led the opening devotion on Acts 23-26. Several projects for the good of the church were undertaken.

The meeting was well attended. The following members were present: Mesdames Oeffinger, Reinhardt, A. Stiegler, Ella Balzen, R. Richter, H. E. Haass, Schroeder, Falkenberg, Grube, Leibfarth, Miller, Geo. Bendele, Sr., A. Muennink, G. Saathoff, Mussmann, Batot, Miss Lena Saathoff and the hostess, Mrs. L. A. Mechler. Visitors were Mrs. Hummel, Dorothy Grube, Irene Haass, Josie Mussmann and Tunselda Wurzbach. A delightful lunch was served by the young lady guests present.

The next meeting is scheduled to be held at the home of Mrs. Wm. Mussmann, Dec. 7th.

We were sorry to learn that Sam is under the weather, and don't know whether he is nature-faking for an excuse to keep away from the polls Tuesday or whether uncertainty as to how to place his election bets upset him. But here's hoping no matter how the election goes tomatoes will still continue to grow for him.

The Committee appointed by the Directors of the Chamber of Commerce here some time ago to handle the federal unemployment relief funds to be apportioned to Medina County, completed their application in due time and have been assured that the papers have been regularly filed in Washington. The San Antonio office expressed confidence that funds would be forthcoming in due time, but up to going to press the Committee is without any notice of any allowance having been made.

MARRIED.

A quiet wedding, known only to a few intimates, took place on October 21, 1932, in which Mr. Charles Gillespie of this place and Miss Rosalie Norton of Lytle were united in marriage. The couple are now at home in Hondo after a brief honeymoon tour over parts of old Mexico.

Mr. Gillespie is local manager of the San Antonio Public Service Company here, and his bride will be welcomed into the social life of our community.

Congratulations and best wishes to Mr. and Mrs. Gillespie.

HONDO MEETS DEVINE SATURDAY.

Saturday afternoon at two-thirty the Hondo High Owls will meet the Devine Warhorses on the latter's field, and this game will be one of the high spots of the season. Devine is the strongest club in the state's history, and they have been waiting for this game since the season started. The American Legion has planned a big Free Barbecue in order to get the people out to back the Hondo Owls. A large crowd is anticipated, as Natalia, Black Creek, and Shook communities are all represented by players on the Devine team. Coach Ellis started the season with a large, strong bunch of boys, but somewhat green as far as football was concerned. They lost a setback to Pearsall early in the season due largely to overconfidence. The growth of their outplaying the class A Tech team of San Antonio last week they hit their stride at Pearsall, and though they outplayed the opposition, they lost by a narrow margin. Coach Ellis has had a back to back with any of the district. Owings, last year's Pearsall back, has been moved to the line of scrimmage. Coach Flory says his team is in better shape than at any time during the season—barring mental attitude. He will probably start Parsons and Stiegler at ends, Stiegler and Carver at tackles, Rothe and Taylor at guards, Rucker at center, A. Finley at quarter, T. Finger and Jones at halves, and Miller at full. Lanier still limps from an ankle sprain in the Uvalde game, but will probably see service against Devine. The team realizes that it has a hard game on its hands, it should win, but if overconfidence has crept into the ranks, then the team may come out Saturday night knocked out of the race for the championship. Results so far, and the remainder of the schedule:

Hondo 12	Peacock 0
Hondo 46	Carizzo Springs 0
Hondo 58	Sabinal 0
Hondo 25	Uvalde 6
Hondo 80	South San Antonio 0

Schedule:
Nov. 5th, Hondo at Devine.
Nov. 11, Cotulla at Hondo.
Nov. 18, Hondo at Pearsall.

PORK IN VILLA PARK.

Villa Park, Ill., Oct. 11.—How much longer is The Tribune to continue its unfair tirade against Speaker Garner? I was reared in Mr. Garner's district and have followed his career for as long as I can remember. I know that you will go a long way before you find an abler statesman or a better American. If it is necessary for The Tribune to press the pork barrel issue why does it not direct its shafts toward some of the persons who are far greasier than Garner? When the details of Mr. Garner's bill were published it was found that Villa Park was on the list for a new postoffice of moderate cost and many of our pious Republicans were observed to raise their hands in holy horror and the cry of "pork" went forth as if it were something new. But now imagine the silent consternation of these same pious individuals when it is revealed that Villa Park is going to have a new $115,000 postoffice anyway and that the idea for it was born in 1928 as part of the "vast public works" program proposed by Mr. Hoover at that time. And the same thing goes for many other communities. The Tribune is unfair when, in a news article, it attempts to couple Speaker Garner with the building of a useless postoffice in a Republican district in Michigan. Without going into the merits or demerits of the Garner bill, I venture to say that nearly every one of the proposed postoffices will be built in the next year, Democrats or no Democrats. Garner or no Garner. If postoffices are pork then a great many prominent Republicans, including President Hoover, are smeared with lard.

LUTHER LEAGUE ENTERTAINED

Misses Irene Haass and Dorothy Grube added an interesting affair to the many marking the Hallowe'en calendar by entertaining for the Luther League and several guests Monday night at the home of the former. The guests were greeted at the door by a spook in ghostly robes, and a clammy, cold hand was extended in welcome. Favors of poppers, fortunes and bright orange caps were presented each on arrival. The guests were entertained in rooms gay and eerie with jack-o-lanterns, black cats, skeletons, streamers of orange and black and other emblems of Hallowe'en. Yellow cosmos and chrysanthemums lent gay seasonal touches. Games, contests, forfeits, and other typical entertainments kept the guests in shouts of merriment until the buffet supper was served at a table adorned with a centerpiece of fruit and autumn foliage. Refreshments of ginger bread with whipped cream, doughnuts, popcorn balls and hot chocolate further carried out the Hallowe'en idea. Bobbing for apples and contests with marshmallows on strings completed the evening's fun.

Those present were Rev. and Mrs. W. C. Leibfarth, Misses Irene Mechler, Alice Muennink, Tunselda Wurzbach, Ada Belle Carter and Anne Davis, and Messrs. Marvin Muennink, Robert Brucks, Melvin Stiegler, Jack Hartung, Milton, Edgar and Floyd Mechler, Chester Stiegler, Otto and Freddie Grube, Charlie Hartung, and Clarence Neuman, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. THE SCHOOL CHILD'S DIET

By Betty Barclay.
With boys and girls well started again at school, and facing a long winter of strenuous study and play, a matter that demands the thoughtful attention of every mother is the continued health of her children and their ability to meet the requirements that will be made upon their stamina. In this respect nothing is more important than an adequate and properly selected diet. To supply the body fuel required for both growth and energy, the school child needs what seems to many adults an enormous amount of food. In a study made of growing athletic boys at a boarding school it was shown that their average daily consumption was 5,000 calories, whereas the average adult engaged in sedentary occupations consumes around 3,000 calories. Between-meal eating is in general to be discouraged, but there is one exception. This occurs in mid-afternoon when the body-fuel supply of the normally active child frequently runs low and needs replenishing. Then a mid-afternoon snack is in order, and an excellent one is provided by that old fashioned hunger remedy, a piece of buttered bread and jam, or buttered bread and sugar. The bread, and the sugar in the jam, or on the bread, supply fuel for energy. The fruits in the jam furnish vitamins and minerals.

With an adequate amount of food assured, the next problem is to be certain that the child's diet is properly balanced. Comparatively few mothers are able to say very accurately just what proportions of the needed elements—proteins, carbohydrates, fats, minerals and vitamins—are provided by the different foods that make up the family menu. Nor is any such accurate knowledge necessary.

It is really only necessary to remember that meats, fish, dairy products and eggs provide proteins and fats, that sweet foods, bread, potatoes and other vegetables provide carbohydrates, and that the great sources of vitamins are milk, fruits and green vegetables. If the daily menu is sufficiently varied to provide all of these foods, and if at least one food from each group is represented at each meal, you can be reasonably certain that the menu is a properly balanced one.

For the older school child the following would be an excellent day's menu:

Breakfast
Orange
Cereal with cream and sugar
Milk	Bacon and egg
Toast with butter and marmalade
Lunch.
Creamed Chicken
Baked sweet potato	String beans
Bread and butter
Applesauce
Milk
Dinner.
Cream of celery soup
Roast Lamb with mint sauce
Mashed potatoes	Beets
Lettuce with dressing
Bread and butter
Cup custard
Hot chocolate or cocoa

For the child of earlier school age, breakfast would be the same. Dinner however, would be moved up to mid-day, and the soup would be skipped. Supper would consist of a cream soup; crackers; chicken or other meat sandwich; applesauce; cookies; milk.

MY SANCTUARY.

By Stella V. Jones.

Not even a little green house, to call
The place where I stay, a home.
But a long time ago—it seems to me,
I lost my desire to roam.

Since then I have purchased a patch of sod,
And planted the sod in trees,—
A little gray shanty for an abode
My wanderlust to appease.

My shanty surrounded by summer flowers,
Heard many a passer say,
"I wonder who lives in that gray little shack,
That stands on the broad highway?"

We know who lives in the little old shack,
A dear little boy and me,
And we don't care what the passers say
For we are happy and free!

Free to the flowers around the house,
And happy because of the trees
That bring the blossoms that bear the fruit
And two weary travelers please.

FRIENDLY CRITICISM.

By Elizabeth Giles Winn.

I flatter none who come my way.
I'm gentle to the old and gray.
True kindness comes from God above;
But folly does not merit love.

No parasite who clings for gain,
When bitter comes life's heavy rain,
Will ever stand with courage true;
But thankless he will flee from you

To giddy ones who dance and skip,
Who make of life a pleasure trip.
I flatter none, yet none I hate,
And friendships keep, in spite of Fate.

I always show the best good-will—
I criticize, but love folks still.

AUSTIN.

By Emma Allen Bailey

There's a spot of wondrous beauty
Where towers of grandeur rise,
Symbols of poise and mastery
That greet the human eyes—
And the country that surrounds it,
Oh, I know God loves it too,
For 'tis every bit a picture
That the Artist painted true.

'Tis the city we call Austin—
Under skies so fair and blue,
Where the sunshine drinks the moisture
Of the falling summer dew,
Where the breezes soft and gentle
Kiss the wild bluebonnets fair,
And the violet crowns the city
Like a picture great and rare.

Where majestic hills are peeping
Through the sunshine of the sky;
Hills that hug the Colorado
As its waters ripple by.
Oh, this spot of sacred beauty—
Austin, dear, so wondrous grand,
'Tis the violet crowned city
And the pride of Texas land!

PLEASE, FATHER.

By Ethel Osborn Hill.

Father, the way is dark—
Please reach your hand
And steady me till I
Can firmly stand.

Father, my stumbling feet
Have struck a rock
Whose jagged edges tear and bruise
With cruel shock.

Father, please move the rock.
Nay, it must stay?
Then, Father, lead me, please,
Some other way.

And Father, may I have
One little star
To comfort me? The way
Is rough and far.

AUTUMN LANDSCAPE.
(HOKKU).

By Anton Romatka.

The gaunt moaning trees
Mourn at the grave of summer
Like drab old women.

is a weapon as effective in one's hands as another's.

In the meantime, all real Democrats and especially those who carried Mrs. Ferguson's standard successfully through two primaries, should remember that safety to her cause, to the party's future usefulness and to the welfare of the state demands their presence at the polls and a straight Democratic ballot in the ballot box on November 8th.

Let no one fail in his duty!
Let's all vote!

Nine proposed amendments to our state fundamental law are up for consideration of the voters of Texas November 8th. None of them are essential to the welfare of the state, some are violative of the spirit of Democracy and the promised helpfulness behind some will not stand up under careful analysis. Yet there is a probability of every one carrying by a small vote because of the activities of interested minorities and the indifference and inattention of a majority of the voters.

That the proposed Centennial Amendment is merely an enabling act that will permit but is not mandatory on the Legislature to appropriate money for the holding of a Centennial Celebration is sufficiently obvious as to make one wonder at the emphasis placed on it by the advocates of the measure. At the same time, are they fair to the voters when they neglect to tell them that if it were not expected that the Legislature will make an appropriation there would be no incentive for having the Amendment adopted? Then, too, why emphasize the fact that the adoption of the Amendment only permits the Legislature to make an appropriation and neglect the equally important fact that at the same time it takes the lid off the state treasury and empowers that same body to appropriate to the limits of the taxpayers to pay?

AUTUMN.

By Lorene Warren Baxter Meers.

When autumn winds came flurrying,
Scurrying, hurrying,
Along the winding brook;
Then Jackfrost stained the woodland
scene,
Such gorgeous tints from shades of green,
That the golden leaves,
Of the Maple trees,
And the crimson glow,
Where the Dogwoods grow,
Up the mossy slopes,
To the red-brown Oaks,
Showed one great mass of glorious
hue,
That every hour more brilliant grew,
Each trembling leaflet shook,
Scurrying, hurrying,
When autumn winds came flurrying.

When autumn winds came flurrying,
Hurrying, scurrying,
The leaves of red and brown;
A merry rustling sound was heard,
As gay decked boughs the northwind
stirred,
Then a sudden breeze,
In the tossing trees,
Sent each gorgeous shade,
Of the woodsey glade,
In a swirling mass,
To the frosty grass,
And orange, gold and scarlets rare,
Came softly whirling through the air,
As bright leaves drifted down,
Hurrying, scurrying,
When autumn winds came flurrying.

EDITORIALS

The fellow who borrowed money when he 'never expected to see cotton below twenty cents again' now has a note over his head he never expects to see paid with six cent cotton.

We are no longer able to increase taxation and public debt without seriously imperiling the future of the country. Investors are frightened, and money is hoarded. Businesses come to a standstill and more men are thrown out of work. Nothing could do more to start the country on the upgrade than decisive governmental economy—not next week or next year, but now.—Industrial News Review.

This is November—the season for Thanksgiving. From the standpoint of economic and social welfare the prospects seem to call more for supplication than for praise. But be our ills what they may, to them have not yet been added the worse evils of war, pestilence and famine. For such inestimable blessings let us take time off from our mouthings of despair and give praise to Him who has dealt with us better than we deserve!

The lately deposed head of the Washington Police force is now giving the inside story of the bonus eviction outrage at Washington last summer. Sordid as it seemed to one at a distance, it takes on added repugnance from his disclosure that it was instigated and perpetrated as a piece of political strategy on the part of the President and his advisors. How there can be any extenuation in the mind of anyone for the administration's inhuman conduct towards that whole unfortunate affair is beyond our comprehension.

That the entrance of the state into the show business, via the Centennial Celebration door, is regarded by even its advocates as a step of doubtful propriety is evidenced by the effort to safeguard the treasury from future raids by empowering the Legislature to appropriate funds only for the one event. But that the safeguard will be ineffective to prevent advocates in the future with shows to promote from pleading this event as a precedent to justify their own is proven by the fact that the precedent of other states underwriting celebrations is pleaded in behalf of the proposed Texas Centennial. Better stay within the proven trails of Democracy; every time a self-governing people depart therefrom they become lost in a wilderness of inconsistencies and errors.

It would be amusing if it were not tragical the way public officials and would-be officials are setting up a game of buck-passing in the matter of reduction of governmental expenses. Faced everywhere with empty treasuries and budgets all out of balance, officials of the national government deplore the extravagance of state governments. Asked what he proposes to do about "the constantly mounting cost of taxation" a man who thinks he is running for governor of Texas devotes nearly a page and a half of closely written manuscript to telling how the counties should economize and barely six lines to telling how he would reduce state expenses. And in those six lines he never touches the real causes of the excessive cost of state government. And when the county or municipality speaks, it is usually to start the buck back the other way. When voters realize that they can expect tax reduction only when they quit asking for government activities calling for more and more expenditures some relief may be hoped for; it never can be so long as it is only up to the officials.

SHALL WE BE RULED BY FEAR?

The adroit "engineers" of the Republican presidential campaign, no matter what may be their shortcomings or over-reachings, must be given credit for understanding the psychology of fear.

The fear of punishment being always a greater incentive than the hope of reward, the "engineers" understand the human tendency to "endure the ills they have" rather than risk worse by seeking a change.

They know, also, that capital, as personified in big business of today, is the most cowardly thing in existence; ready on the slightest alarm to run to cover and trample under foot everything that obstructs its flight.

A few weeks ago the public mind was so wrought up over the depression and the "fear" that the causes for it would continue to operate on a continuance of the present political regime that a change at the forthcoming general election seemed to be a foregone conclusion.

Sensing this "fear", the "engineers" have set out to throw a bigger scare into the people by putting out the propaganda that, bad as things admittedly are, the worse would be yet to come in the event of a change.

That it is having its telling effect is evidenced by the frantic efforts of certain big business operators to intimidate their employees into support of the present administration.

A further evidence is the erratic behavior of the market prices of certain staple commodities.

And as a consequence, the evidence is unmistakable that there is a drift the other way from what promised only a few weeks ago to be a veritable landslide to the Democratic party.

Unpleasant as it is to admit this fact, we must face it and act accordingly or else resign ourselves to a realization that we are to continue to endure the ills from which we at present suffer because too cowardly to risk a change.

Unless we are to prove ourselves recreant to the trust bequeathed to us, along with the heritage of freedom left us by our revolutionary forbearers, we must shake off this unworthy weakness and acquit ourselves as becomes freemen jealous of our sovereignty.

Shall we be ruled by fear?

Or shall we assert the power of manhood suffrage by using our ballots to junk the present regime that has proven such a failure and place new helmsmen in the persons of Roosevelt and Garner aboard the Ship of State?

As our votes count on November 8th so will we honor or defame the priceless heritage of self-government bequeathed to us by sires who scorned to fear a change!

LET'S ALL VOTE.

It used to be in Texas that a man could vote in the Democratic primaries and as soon as the result was known forget it, for the matter was settled for the next two years; not so now in these times of supple-jointed consciences and contempt for party organization.

Since Mrs. Ferguson has been declared the nominee, a renegade democrat has stolen the livery of Republicanism in Texas in which to serve the hate-mongers of anti-Fergusonism; and as a tool in the hands of conscienceless Republican spoilsman on one side and "super-conscience" party wreckers on the other, he is a dangerous factor to forget or ignore at the present time.

An organized and well financed campaign is on to urge and instruct the willing how to scratch Mrs. Ferguson's name from the printed ballot and vote for the anti-Ferguson figurehead, posing as a Republican with his name in the Republican column on the ballot.

That the only interest this organization or their figurehead has in the campaign is not in giving the state a real Republican state administration—which might not be a bad thing for the state—but to gloat their hatred of Mrs. Ferguson is proven by the organization being manned solely by anti-Fergusonites and by their figurehead's puerile offer to withdraw from the race if Mrs. Ferguson would withdraw.

Republican voters are certainly under no party obligation to support one who places so little value upon their party's principles as to offer to thus barter them for such a trifling gratification of hatred.

Those renegade democrats who would wreck their party to achieve a gratification of their unreasoning hatred for the head of the state ticket would do well to remember that to do so is to defeat the will of half a million of their fellow citizens and not merely crush a lone citizen.

If they wish to carry their inter-party dissatisfaction into the general election and perpetuate it into a permanent split of the party, whereby designing party renegades can profit by playing both sides from the middle, they cannot better achieve it than by succeeding in their present treasonable designs against the party's nominee for governor.

The echoes from such party perfidy will continue to reverberate in Texas politics possibly long after the present actors have passed from the scene.

Those party nominees who appreciate the honor that their party has conferred upon them should publicly repudiate this treachery to their party head, and he who will not should be repudiated by the voters at the election.

This is no time or place for traitors in the ranks and scratching

Keeping The Record Straight

TEXAS
CENTENNIAL COMMITTEE
State Headquarters
Room 6, Driskill Hotel, P. O. Box 718
AUSTIN, TEXAS
Office of the Executive
Vice-President
Austin, Texas,
Oct. 13, 1932.

Mr. Fletcher Davis,
Hondo, Texas.

My dear Mr. Davis:

In a clipping just noticed from your publication I see that you state that your position on the Centennial movement causes you to have to "kiss goodbye to whatever chances the Fletcher Davis Publications might have had, if any, of sharing in the fees paid by somebody for running an attractive series of fat advertisements" etc.

Knowing your disposition to be exactly fair in all matters I am writing to advise you that these advertisements are being run in 101 daily newspapers and more than 200 weekly papers without any cost whatever to the Centennial committee. The newspapers have generously donated the space and the copy was prepared for us without any charge by Tracy Locke Dawson Co. and the mats were made in the same generous spirit by the Western Newspaper Union. If your publications were overlooked it was either by accident or else it was thought that you do not have a casting box of sufficient size to cast plates from the mats.

I have noticed in a previous clipping that you are opposed to the Centennial Amendment, but I wish to assure you that your views do not in any way affect my long-standing and sincere friendship for and appreciation of you. Personally I believe that we are engaged in the greatest epoch-making constructive work ever undertaken in Texas since Texas Independence was won. I also believe most sincerely that the Texas Centennial can be handled and will be handled in a way to bring the State increased revenue rather than proving a burden to tax-payers. If I did not think so I would not be devoting my time to the work, nor do I think any member of the Centennial committee would do so.

I am not writing this to try to change your views, but merely to explain my own and to assure you that you have not been discriminated against in the publicity of the series of advertisements.

With all good personal feeling and best wishes, I am

Sincerely your friend,

WILL H. MAYES,

Executive Vice-President.

Hondo, Texas,

October 16, 1932.

Hon. Will H. Mayes,

Austin, Texas.

Dear Governor:

I thank you for your favor of the 13th instant, and especially for your expressions of personal regard contained therein. I am glad of your assurance of friendship, because I am so constituted by nature that if I could only call him with whom I never disagree my friend I would be a lonesome man indeed.

I hope you can believe me, also, when I say that I am glad to learn from you that I have not been black-listed because of my opinion. But having paid so dearly by loss of patronage before for daring to express my opinions, and having been so freely warned that FARMING could never hope to prosper financially because of that independence, you must readily understand that my inferences in this instance were but natural, however far they might be from the facts. I am sure that the several hundred other papers of the state, which must be as much in the dark as I was as to the plan and scope of your advertising campaign, will be equally glad to know the facts and know no favoritism has been played.

So far as the patronage matter is concerned, however, that is merely an incident with me. With all due allowance for the magnitude of the Centennial undertaking and the pride we all should feel in its success, if my Democracy were not too deeply interwoven into my being for me to approve of the state's entrance into the show business as a matter of principle, I could not at this time—with governmental functions of absolute necessity being handicapped by tax delinquency and thousands of tax-payers in danger of losing their homes through tax foreclosures—favor adding any more to the tax-payers' burdens. If the first straw had not been laid the last one would not have broken the camel's back. I submit that, aside from the principle involved, it is time for safety's sake for us to think of the tax bearing camel.

Thanking you again for your favor in writing me in the manner you did, and hoping our friendship is proof against whatever differences of opinion we may have, I am,

Truly your friend,

FLETCHER DAVIS.

As the guests, in appropriate costumes, arrived they were met at the gate by a ghost, who conducted them into rooms of "spooky" appearance. Later the hostess, in a game of "Follow the leader", led them through the yard, where jack-o'-lanterns blinked in the darkness, and to a large campfire surrounded by bales of hay. Here other games and ghost stories were interrupted by the appearance of a ghost which towered over them from unbelievable heights. Biting apples in a tub and throwing cards into a basket, for which Joe Finger received a prize, caused further merriment. Muffins, pimiento sandwiches and hot chocolate were served. UVALDE COYOTES LOSE TO HONDO OWLS.

The Hondo High Owls triumphed over the Uvalde Coyotes here Friday afternoon, Oct. 21st, playing before one of the largest crowds to ever turn out for a football game. The score was 25 to 6 and avenged two defeats previously suffered at the hands of the Coyotes.

Aerials figured prominently in the Owls attack and in the four touchdowns they scored. The alertness of the local team resulted in intercepted passes, one of which Capt. A. Finger caught on Uvalde's 35 yard line and raced for a touchdown.

The following play for play covering is taken from the Uvalde Leader News:

The first Owl score came in the late minutes of the opening quarter, starting when the Owls took a punt on their own 42-yard line. A. Finger's pass to Parsons netted a first down on the 20-yard line, and straight football was used to push the score over, Miller counting. Taylor kicked the extra point.

A partially blocked punt which rolled out of bounds on the Coyote 21-yard line, paved the way for the second Hondo score. A. Finger's toss to Jents was good for a first down on the 11-yard line and the ball was worked to the one-yard stripe from where Miller again plunged it over for a counter. Capt. Riley blocked Taylor's kick for the extra point. The Coyotes showed offensive strength for the first time in the closing minutes of the first half when E. McKenzie intercepted a pass on his own goal line and returned to the 10-yard line where he slipped and fell. On the first play thereafter, he circled the right side of the Owl line for 21 yards, A. Finger finally bringing him down. Kincaid added another nine yards, but incomplete passes and a fumble halted the drive as the half ended.

Parsons took the opening kick-off in the second half and returned it midfield, where he fumbled as he was tackled. T. McKenzie grabbed the ball and raced across the Owl goal, but the ball was called back and given to the Coyotes. The lone Coyote touchdown came on the first play of the final quarter when B. McKenzie slashed through left guard from the two-yard line, culminating a drive from the Coyotes' 46-yard line. Riley's kick for the extra point was wide of the uprights.

Rucker intercepted a pass on the pack's 18-yard line in the closing minutes of the last quarter to pave the way for the third Owl score. T. Finger's pass to A. Finger, netting 10 yards aided in the drive goalward. A. Finger finally crossed the line in a hard smash at center. McRadin blocked Taylor's kick for the extra point. A. Finger intercepted a Coyote pass a few minutes later and scored the final touchdown. Riley blocked Taylor's kick for the extra point.

The Pastor.

Four carloads of two and three year old Herford steers, averaging 850 pounds in weight, were turned in on field grazing by Ervin Seyars of Sabinal on May 8. An oat crop, too poor to harvest on account of dry weather, was first grazed off. The steers were then turned in on sudan grass where they ran the remainder of the fattening period. Forty-eight head of these steers were shipped to market from Sabinal on August 5th, weighing an average of 1065 pounds at the shipping pens, having put on a gain of 215 pounds in the 88 days, or an average daily gain of 2.4 pounds per steer. During the last 30 days the grazing was supplemented with a small allowance of crushed corn. Mr. Seyars reports he is well pleased with the job the steers did of harvesting an otherwise worthless oat crop, and that he believes his land has been used to good advantage in raising the crop of sudan grass which was harvested and put in marketable form by the cattle without labor cost to him.

Members of the Cherokee Future Farmer Chapter fed 34 calves which showed a daily gain of 1.6 pounds per calf at the end of the first month's feeding period. These calves were put on feed July 20 and will be fed until March when they will be shown at the first Cherokee Baby Beef Show.

SINCLAIR Pennsylvania Motor Oil is an outstanding example of what Nature and man working together, can produce in a fine automobile lubricant. Back in the Devonian Age, a hundred million years ago, long before even the dinosaurs came into being, Nature deposited in the Bradford-Allegheny District of the Pennsylvania field, the crude oil which today commands the highest price of all Pennsylvania grade crudes. Man has done his part in the great Sinclair refineries where Sinclair, in manufacturing Sinclair Pennsylvania Motor Oil, de-waxes Bradford-Allegheny crude and frees it from non-lubricating petroleum jelly at as low as 60° F. below zero. Cooking A Fine Art

YOU wouldn't dream of taking any fresh food and just popping it into the oven or a pot and cooking it without anything else. It's the combinations that count, the seasoning and basting—a touch of this, a bit of that.

The same thing holds true of canned foods. They are good to eat just as they come from the can. They are better to eat, if you "doll them up" a bit. Combine a slice of salt pork, for instance, with the contents of a can of succotash when you heat them, and you have an entirely different and more succulent dish.

Good Combinations

Take chicken—everyone takes chicken. It's excellent right from the can with a cream sauce added and served on toast. But it's something to cable home about if it is served this same way with the addition of canned mushrooms, a little canned corn and chopped, blanched almonds which have been slightly browned in butter!

Perhaps you can live without spinach, but dietitians tell you that you can't live so well without it. Try draining a cup of canned spinach, adding a tablespoon of lemon juice and stuffing small ripe tomatoes with this mixture seasoned to taste. They taste as good as they look—and they look like more spinach and tomatoes.*
